

Dr. Jason Sico is a board-certified neurologist and internist within the VA Connecticut Healthcare System. He serves as the National Director of the VA Headache Centers of Excellence (HCoE) program and directs the HCoE Research and Evaluation Center. He is also a health services researcher with interests related to improving care quality and delivery for Veterans with neurological disease, particularly those with headache and stroke. Dr. Sico sees patients in person and via telehealth.