

Staci A. Fischer, MD, FACP, FIDSA is a transplant infectious disease specialist who lives in Bristol, Rhode Island. She is a former fellowship program director and DIO and joined the CLER team as a field representative in 2014. She now serves as one of the four CLER Team Leads responsible for oversight and training of field representatives.