

Dr. Kimberly Jones is a Child Neurologist at the University of Kentucky who has served as the Child Neurology Residency program director for over a decade. Recently she accepted a position as Assistant Dean for Student Affairs in the UK College of Medicine and is transitioning her focus from resident education to medical students.