

The Department of Neurology at The University of Arizona College of Medicine in collaboration with Banner - University Medicine Tucson is seeking a passionate and dedicated Movement Disorder Specialist to join our esteemed faculty. This is an outstanding opportunity to be part of a dynamic team that delivers top-tier care to patients with movement disorders, including Parkinson's Disease, utilizing comprehensive treatment and management strategies. You will work alongside a multidisciplinary team of experts within a state-of-the-art facility that fosters both patient care and groundbreaking research.

As part of our team, you will have access to cutting-edge resources and will play a key role in shaping the future of movement disorder care. Clinical services are provided at the Banner University Medical Center in Tucson, a leading academic medical center, as well as at conveniently located outpatient clinics. Our residency program, home to 25 residents, offers a vibrant educational environment, and we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring the next generation of neurologists.

The selected candidate will be appointed to the faculty of the University of Arizona, with a rank commensurate with their experience and qualifications. This faculty appointment comes with a range of academic benefits, including a generous tuition discount for the candidate and their immediate family members, underscoring our commitment to both professional and personal growth.

Minimum Requirements:

- American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology certified or eligible in Neurology.
- Fellowship-trained in Movement Disorders.
- Enthusiastic new graduates are encouraged to apply.
